BIG STATE, BIG COUNTRY
GRACE SPARKES

16 RAILROAD PRESIDENTS

PHOENIX, ARIZ., Jan. 16.—They teach you to be energetic in this big state. On the Santa Fe "Chief" you are awakened at 4 a. m. to get off at Ashfork at 4:50. Hospitable citizens. Messrs. Hanna, Murray and Shirley are there to welcome and drive you to Prescott. The driver, wearing a 10-gallon hat gives you new ideas of speed, around the curves of Hassayampa Trail, with nothing between you and eternity waiting 10,000 feet below in the canyon.

Stars in Arizona are amazingly bright, one toward the east must have been made especially for this state. It makes the envious thin moon look pale.

At Prescott which used to be Fort Whipple, where Uncle Am fought the Apaches, Miss Grace Sparkes, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is waiting at the Hassayampa hotel where 150 gather for breakfast at 6:45.

"We'd be more," said Miss Sparkes. "Only we were all at an unemployment relief party until late this morning."

Everybody's health in Arizona seems good. For breakfast there are pork chops, pancakes, with a quarter pound of jelly rolled up in each, bacon, hot biscuit, jet black coffee.

Wishing to make some feeble impression at such a gathering, you mention a 7,000 acre place in the state of New Jersey. "Suppose you know," says Grace Sparkes. "That Yavapai county, in which you now are is as big as the whole state of New Jersey, and that after cutting five other Arizona counties out of Yavapai, there is another Arizona county, Coconino, containing the Grand Canyon, bigger than this."

L. L. Ruffner, president of the Chamber of Commerce, undertakes by profession, is able to devote his whole time to the public because the extraordinary health of Yavapai county gives him nothing to do professionally, unless some easterner goes off the mountain road.

Merely living to be old is nothing out here. You are requested to consider Ed McGinley, aged 102, who sleeps every night as guest of the state in the pioneers home. Every morning he starts out in the mountains prospecting for gold, walking up grades of 45 degrees, returning to his friends in the evening.

Daniel J. Seaman, who looks after the pioneers, of whom Grandma Gray, is 103, shows you his printing office there, in his weekly "Stars" he was first in Arizona to print this column.

Earl Sande, champion jockey, learned to ride on Prescott's little bull ring track. And in Prescott, Mergenthaler developed his linotype machine. "In fact," says Miss Sparkes, "there is no excuse for living outside of this country. Everything you want is here, roses perpetually blooming, and not far off pine trees and perpetual snow."

Leaving Prescott, to which this column will return later, the car with the cowboy driver goes on 100 miles farther to this prosperous city, center of the world's greatest single irrigated tract of land. The

CHOKING SMOKE ENDANGERS 500 AWAITING CARS

Switchman, Presumably Responsible, Vanishes After Crash

LIFT PASSENGERS THROUGH WINDOWS

Wreck Resembles Tragedy In Times Square Two Years Ago

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The first car of a train in the Hudson tubes leaped through an open switch to day at the Manhattan terminal, crashed into a dividing wall and injured all of the 19 passengers.

Five hundred persons in the terminal at 33rd street and Sixth avenue were endangered by choking smoke which spread through the underground tunnels after the crash of the car sent electric sparks into the air.

Police said the switchman, who presumably was responsible for the open switch, disappeared immediately after the accident. They declined to reveal his name.

The train was approaching the Manhattan terminal on the regular run from New Jersey points. The Hudson tubes are a subway system, running to Newark, Jersey City and other New Jersey points after dipping beneath the Hudson river.

Eye witnesses said the front car of the train shot through the open switch and pounded its way into the dividing wall. The air was blue with electricity and dense smoke gushed out into the tunnel.

Policemen answer Call
There was another report that the switch was not entirely open and that the train as it came speeding up from under the Hudson, split the switch.

One hundred policemen answered an emergency alarm and climbed down a narrow stairway to the tracks. Women were screaming and the persons in the first car were smashing at windows in an attempt to get out. The doors of the first car could not be opened. Police edged along a narrow ledge and lifted women out of the first car.

The second car of the seven-car train also left the tracks, but did not turn over or hit the dividing wall. In almost every respect the wreck resembled the one that occurred in Times Square two years ago when 27 persons were killed.

LISBON PASTOR TO SPEAK HERE

Rev. Jarvis M. Cotton to Conduct Services Sunday Morning in Presbyterian Church

Rev. Jarvis M. Cotton of Lisbon will have charge of the morning service at the Presbyterian church, Sunday.

After a brief devotional service, a congregational meeting will be held at which the members will vote on extending a call to Raymond D. Walter, senior in the Western Theological seminary, Pittsburgh, to the pastorate of this church.

Mr. Walter served here as supply pastor from May until September. An outstanding event in the summer's work was a vacation church school, superintended by Mr. Walter, assisted by capable teachers. The school was in session for five weeks and was attended by 76 pupils.

On the last Sunday Mr. Walter preached here 18 persons were received into membership of the church. Twelve of these came as a result of a school of instruction held by Mr. Walter two or three weeks earlier. The other six came by letter from other churches.

PASTORS VOTE TO PUSH FIGHT AGAINST SHOWS

New Philadelphia Ministers Unanimous In Sunday Battle

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
NEW PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Eight members of the city ministerial association and seven laymen, members of their congregations, last night voted unanimously to continue their fight, opened Wednesday, to close motion picture shows operating here on Sundays, and to begin prosecution to that end.

Disregard Hurst Edict
The ministers took their stand notwithstanding the ultimatum of Mayor W. F. Hurst that he would invoke all known "blue laws" if they insisted on the closing of the theaters. The meeting was held in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Mayor Hurst's threat is only a club, and one which won't be used," Rev. H. C. Getter, pastor of the Lutheran church and president of the association, said.

"I will stand pat behind my statement of yesterday," Mayor Hurst said.

The decision to continue the fight was reached after a suggested plan of endeavoring to persuade theater managers to close their shows themselves on Sunday was abandoned.

Wants Better Shows
Rev. C. W. Danford, pastor of the Methodist church, said he is not opposed to movies on Sunday so far as the shows are concerned.

"If they put on shows that would help build up the minds of our youth," he said, "I would favor them. But I am utterly opposed to shows through the week and on Sundays because about 80 per cent of the pictures are misleading and have a tendency to break down the morals of our community."

"I'm here in the interests of our young people and to oppose shows that are destructive to their young minds."

TOLEDO POLICE HOLD EVANS ON THEFT CHARGES

Chief T. W. Thompson Receives Notice Of Arrest

HUNT, STARTED IN SEPTEMBER, ENDS

Local Authorities Identify Photo And Forward Records

A two-month search for Walter V. Evans, 25, of Salem, charged with a series of burglaries and robberies in several western and midwestern states, was reported by Salem police to have been ended Thursday with his arrest by members of the Toledo police department.

Notice that Evans is being held in Toledo on a burglary charge was received by Police Chief T. W. Thompson today from L. H. Haas, chief of police in Toledo. The man is charged with burglary, Haas reported, and is also being held as a fugitive from justice for Muskegon, Okla., authorities who allege Evans participated in the theft of an automobile there.

No Charge in Salem
No charge is facing Evans from this city, Thompson said today and he will probably be held in Toledo or taken to Muskegon.

Evans escaped from Salem police here last November after they had attempted to place him under arrest at request of Cleveland authorities who were investigating a series of robberies and burglaries for Detroit, Mich. detectives.

Identification of the man held in Toledo as Evans was made by Thompson through two photographs received from Haas by Thompson. The man's complete criminal record, starting with a term in the boys' industrial school at Lancaster in 1913, was forwarded to Haas by Thompson.

Thompson's record of Evans says the latter was sent to Lancaster on a horse stealing charge 17 years ago. In 1915 he was returned to the institute school on a robbery charge, police said, and in 1916 was again returned to Lancaster for carrying concealed weapons. Four years later, the records stated, Evans served a short term for robbery.

In Reformatory
On September 16, 1921, he was received at the Ohio reformatory to serve an indeterminate sentence as a juvenile delinquent. He was paroled on July 13, 1923. Thompson said, but was returned to the reformatory for violation of his parole on September 1 of the same year. He was paroled for a second time on May 29, 1926, Thompson reported.

Evans was arrested in Canton on a burglary and larceny charge on April 30, 1927 and was sentenced to the Ohio reformatory to serve a sentence of one to 15 years. He was paroled from prison on August 15, 1930.

The Salem team was composed of Viola Boda, Jack Ballantine and Lewis Briskin with Mary Campbell as alternate. The subject of the debate was: "Resolved; that the chair, stove system is detrimental to the best interest of the American public."

Coached by J. C. Guiler, the Salem negatives defeated the Campbell Memorial affirmative squad at night.

H. S. Woodward, of Western Reserve college faculty, Cleveland, was judge at the debate held here last night. A. V. Henning of the Salem High faculty presided.

MERCY CHAPTER SEEKS $1,800 IN DROUGHT DRIVE

Salem Unit Receives Call From National Chairman

$10,000,000 SOUGHT IN UNITED STATES

Ask Contributions Here; No Canvass To Be Made

Salem's chapter of the American Red Cross today called upon the city for a generous and immediate response to the nation's appeal for a $10,000,000 fund for drought relief.

Under the direction of William H. Dunn, chairman; Mrs. Myra Woodruff, executive secretary, and P. Troy Cope, chairman of the disaster relief committee, the local organization will seek $1,800 in a speedy campaign, the quota assigned the chapter by John Barton Payne, national chairman.

Need Is Imperative
In instructions received by the local chapter from National Chairman Payne, it is pointed out that "greatly increased demands during the last 10 days have made imperative an immediate campaign for a Red Cross relief fund to meet an emergency situation through parts of 21 states in the drought stricken area."

In addition, Payne's telegram says: "A minimum of $10,000,000 is needed to prevent untold suffering and actual starvation by thousands of families. 'Pollution of the water supply caused by dying cattle has added to winter hardship in some sections.'"

"I am confident your people will not fail to meet their share in this humanitarian need."

No Canvass Planned
There will be no canvass in the Salem district, chapter officials explained today.

The campaign will be conducted through voluntary subscriptions and, with the people of these drought stricken areas feeling acutely the dire results of last summer's torrid weather, the chapter hopes for an immediate and satisfactory response to the appeal for aid.

The chapter will receive contributions at its headquarters in the Memorial building, and also at the First National bank, the Farmers National bank and the Citizens Savings bank.

AGED OHIO MAN ENDS OWN LIFE

Preminent Farmer Sets Fire To Home, Shoots Self In Head At Home Near Kenton

KENTON, Jan. 16.—After pouring kerosene on the walls of the living room of his home near here and setting them afire, Robert Frank Dickson, 78, prominent farmer, entered another room and shot himself fatally through the head, according to Coroner P. N. Elliott.

Despondency over financial troubles was believed to have been the cause of the aged man's act.

The body of Dickson, who lived alone, was found by two neighbors, John and Marion Paul, who were attracted to the farmer's home by the blaze. Damage to the house was estimated at $2,000.

COUNTY FARMS FEEL EFFECTS OF DRY SUMMER

Agriculturists In Columbiana Area Fighting Drought

Farmers in Columbiana county and adjoining territory are continuing their battle against drought conditions, with approximately 100 feeling seriously the effects of last summer's heat, according to County Agent Floyd Lower.

Represent Three Percent
With these exceptions, which, Lower says, represent approximately three or four percent of the farm owners in the county, the drought effects have not reached serious proportions in this territory.

Melting snows and light rainfall in the last two weeks have tended to provide slight relief, although the majority of the 100 farm owners listed by the county agent are still compelled to haul water for their stock, awaiting nature's replenishing of their supplies.

Farmers in Mahoning, Trumbull, Mercer and Lawrence counties, also have been forced to carry water because of shortage of water in wells, extension agents in various districts said. The Ohio Water Service Co., which supplies Poland and Struthers and many Mahoning valley industries with water, has been forced to drill wells as an emergency measure to supply the two communities while Lake Milton, water supply for Youngstown, Niles and Warren, is more than nine feet below normal.

Cisterns Are Emptied
The situation is said to be serious in Mineral Ridge where there is no community domestic supply. Many cisterns have been emptied by the drought and water is carried for miles to homes.

BANK CASHIER CLUB SPEAKER

L. H. Colley Discusses Banking and Depression Effects in Address At Kiwanis Club

L. H. Colley, cashier of the First National bank, addressed Salem Kiwanians at their weekly meeting, held at the Memorial building Thursday afternoon.

Colley discussed banking and related interesting incidents occurring in his experience as a bank examiner in Ohio, a position which he held from 1917 to 1928 previous to becoming affiliated with the Salem concern.

He spoke on the effects of the 1930 depression on the country's finances from a banking standpoint and contrasted conditions in small and large communities throughout the country.

Colley was introduced by Robert L. Wright, the meeting being in charge of Wright and M. B. Krauss.

PLANS TO BLOCK APPOINTMENT IN SENATE DRAWN

Governor Defies Wishes Of Organized Workers' Group

SAYS DEPARTMENT NEEDS SHAKING UP

Urbanan Named As Successor To East Liverpool Man

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16.—Defying wishes of powerful organized labor vote as well as a nationwide governmental tradition, Governor White today took his political life in his hands for the second time since his inaugural and refused to hedge on his selection of a non-labor man for director of industrial relations.

Term Appointment Insult
Taking this appointment of Thomas A. Edmondson of Urbana, who, they say, is an employer instead of an employee, as an insult that demanded retaliation, labor leaders meantime started plans today to block the appointee's confirmation when it is presented to the state senate next week.

Edmondson is to succeed Will T. Blake of East Liverpool, if the event his nomination is approved.

In terms that could not be mistaken, the governor today declared that "the labor candidates are good men but I think they lack administrative ability. Besides, that department needs shaking up."

Showing no indication of weakening on his appointment, the governor added that "I named Edmondson after being satisfied he was well qualified for the position. After making an honest effort to appoint a labor man, I felt I was at liberty to appoint a man friendly to labor and with administrative ability which that department needs."

Whether the senate confirms or refuses to confirm the appointment, the governor today apparently was headed for certain political troubles, because labor is certain to think it has suffered an injury that will carry a scar until at least the next election if Edmondson does take office.

Three "Unsatisfactory"
Labor candidates who proved unsatisfactory to Mr. White, though, as he said today, they are "good men," are G. W. Savage, secretary of the Ohio Mine Workers; O. E. Chapman of Dayton of the Ohio State Federation of Labor executive committee, and Arnold Bill of Cleveland, secretary of the Carpenters' union.

If three Republicans vote for the appointee and Democrats vote solidly and ignore labor protests, confirmation will result.

Promise of Senator V. D. Emmons, Republican, Akron, spokesman for Republican insurgents, that he will "stand by labor, whatever it wants," strengthened the possibility of non-confirmation.

RECRIMINATIONS

The new method, or what promises to be the new method, of conducting political campaigns in the United States is exemplified in the controversy between Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican National committee, and Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York and Democratic presidential candidate in 1928. No longer are campaigns to cease when the last election returns are tabulated. Recriminations are the order of the day.

Mr. Smith, after due deliberation has reached the conclusion that an apology is due him for the circulation of 800,000 copies of what is known in Nye investigating committee circles as the "Al Smith-Raskob Barroom Circular," depicting the return of the saloon and its evils as the Smith-Raskob "idea of happiness." The circular was part of the anti-Norris "literature" distributed by Mr. Lucas in Nebraska when Senator Norris was opposed by former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock. Mr. Smith feels that nothing but circulation of an equal number of apologies would be sufficient to atone for the insult to his character. A letter written by him to Senator Wagner of New York and read before the Nye committee, of which Mr. Wagner is a member, says he never made the statement on which the cartoon hinges. It was: "to my mind the Democratic party will soon be in control and will make this a happy as a prosperous nation. The Democratic party is always looking for the common good and opposing oppressing and sumptuary legislation." The statement was contained in a false telegram under Mr. Smith's signature sent during his campaign. So much for the first phase in the recriminations.

Mr. Lucas, replying to Mr. Smith's request for an apology, suggests he will be glad to give it if Mr. Smith will state that he is for prohibition. In other words, the misquotation on which the barroom cartoon was based may have been spurious but the principal thing was Mr. Smith's views on prohibition, which were certainly not misrepresented. In his turn, Mr. Lucas wants to know if the "Governor and Mr. Raskob are considering apologizing to the American people for the action of Governor Smith's hand-picked chairman, Mr. Raskob, in subsidizing with large sums of money an organized campaign extending over more than a year to misrepresent and smear the President of the United States."

Apologies don't matter greatly to the American people one way or another, in all probability. They might make interesting reading, but no more so than the heated requests for them. Recriminations, after all, are as harmless a way as any of keeping the air speed with political smoke, and as long as they are cleared away in time for the next election no one will be bothered greatly by them.

AUTHORITY ON BUSINESS

A few days ago bankers, business men and economists lent an attentive ear to what Paul M. Warburg, international banker and chairman of the board of the Manhattan Co., had to say about business. Mr. Warburg, claiming depressions are entirely psychological and can be cured only by a changed state of mind, laughed at people who refuse to believe business will improve. A few months ago, he reminded them, their belief was that business never would cease to do anything else.

More recently, Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the board of the Chase National bank, has expressed his ideas on business to an international audience no less attentive. While Mr. Wiggin's considerations concerned only the United States directly, France, Germany, England, Italy and perhaps a few of the lesser European countries are indirectly affected.

Mr. Wiggin, reasoning that foreign countries are unable to obtain dollars in amounts sufficient both to make interest and amortization payments on their debts to the United States and to buy American exports in adequate volume, believes a cut in the allied debt would be a direct aid to world trade. Agriculture, mining, manufacturing—all have been and are affected by crippled foreign commerce. While Mr. Wiggin does not go into the psychological factors of depression stressed by Mr. Warburg, it seems safe to assume he would say that the decrease in foreign trade would be a terrific drag even were the "attitude" of the people to be perfect.

Another factor contributing to adverse business conditions, in Mr. Wiggin's opinion, is a tariff out of tune with the times. He comments, "a reduction in tariff, made in the interest, not of change but of stability, would still leave us our general protective tariff system."

Expressions from abroad on Mr. Wiggin's debt reduction proposal have been favorable, for an obvious reason. At home while opinion has not been unanimously favorable, it has tended to be so. The idea is not, of course, new. No less an authority on fiscal matters than Secretary Mellon has said that a restored and prosperous Europe would be of greater value to the United States than the collection of all the war debts.

Needless to say, the third recommendation made by Mr. Wiggin to improve business; namely, a slight reduction in wages, has received no support.

Each important man, each unimportant man and each mediocre man has his idea of the causes of hard times and the remedies. What a pity that they do not come together and submit a comprehensive report, if for no other reason than to aid economists of the next generation attempting to set down the causes of the depression that started in 1929.

What Others Say

BOOSTING GASOLINE TAXES. That heavier and heavier imposts should be put on a source of revenue so easily collectible as a gasoline-tax was inevitable. The burden grows each year. Used at first to supplement motor taxes to pay for huge highway programs under the clear justice of requiring the automobile to pay for expenditures necessitated by it, gas taxes now are diverted in many states to other functions of government.

In 1928, the last year for which complete figures on state finances are available, motor fuel taxes amounted to $241,917,000, or twelve and one-half per cent of all revenues of the forty-eight states. Addition of more than two and a half millions assessed in license and property taxes on motor cars, the automobile paid nearly thirty per cent of all state revenue. Highways accounted for but seventeen per cent of all state expenditure.

Most of the state legislatures are meeting this year. It is reported that proposals for increasing gasoline taxes have taken form in a third of the states, and are likely to come up for consideration in many others. In this connection it is interesting to note that of the states taxing gasoline at only two cents a gallon several have the finest highway systems in the country, notably New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Wisconsin. The rate runs up as high as six cents in three states and five cents in nine. Ohio's four-cent rate applies in the largest group of states, nineteen, while Pennsylvania, with a highway system of the finest, has reduced its rate from four to three cents.

In his farewell message to the legislature, Governor Cooper declared that Ohio's gas tax was sufficient to meet all highway needs. It is to be hoped that Ohio will not fall into the error of some other states by boosting the rate when ever a little extra money is desired. The gasoline tax, applied now in every state and the District of Columbia, is a good and uncomplicated horse, and consequently there is a tendency to ride it too hard.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, January 17
Of doubtful portent are the affairs of this day, according to the powerful sway of the superior planets. Under the conjunction of Saturn and Luna it may be necessary to confront many stubborn obstacles or to be resigned to delays and temporary frustrations. There is a strongly disruptive force, which may manifest in sudden and unwelcome change removal or travel, and, withal, the finances are imperiled, as also the renewal or making of satisfactory contracts. Personal affiliations offer comforting conditions, with much liveliness.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which it may be necessary to surmount many difficult situations, attended by abrupt and unwelcome change. Finances are in jeopardy, new arrangements may not be satisfactory, but sign papers cautiously, and make the best of happy and lively domestic, social or affectional relations. Although discretion is also called for in personal contacts. A child born on this day may be restless, nervous, fond of change, but active, constructive and hardworking.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Press puffery has fashioned much foolery about the magnetic attraction of the chorus girl for rich young bloods, ripening millionaires and other gilded matrimonial desirables. In some notable instances this is true, but they are exceptions.

The stage door Johnny is usually a college boy on the make. He seeks a gay companion for around of the night clubs. About the only catastrophe is his missing chapel. The Broadway play-boys who have married chorines have discarded them as quickly as law permitted.

The ambitious chorus girl is prehensile and in the show business just for the ride. She is little interested in a desirable catch. With the accuracy of water she seeks her level. A Ziegfeld charmer keeping her try in a shady hotel with the notorious Legs Diamond is an example.

All the legendary stuff about the mad scramble for a chorus girl's favor is so much talk. The gangster, the sure thing boy and, the race tout has his light lady from the can-can but the attachment seldom flowers in the upper strata. The "boy friends" of the chorus maids are usually young toughs.

There are, of course, highly respectable chorus girls using their job as a stepping stone to loftier stage jobs. They are bright threads in the theatrical web but are not seen in sandwich parlors, speakeasies and night clubs. They go straight home from the theatre and off hours are spent in improving studies.

As a rule the show girl is on a higher moral and intellectual plane than her sister of the merry merry. She is often paid $150 a week while the chorus girl's top is $65 a week. The show girl, contracting brilliant marriage, is frequently confused with the chorus girl.

Not discounting chorus girls have been whisked to stardom, as a class they do not display a great effort to get on in the world. They squeeze a fleeting glamour out of life, are chorus girls a few years, perhaps figure in a Page One scandal or so, and are soon forgotten.

Two theatrical producers have gone in for Napoleonism. The late A. L. Erlanger had a Napoleonic library and was frequently called "The Little Emperor" because of his resemblance. Belasco has a Napoleon room, including an authenticated lock of the ruler's hair.

A new fad of rich matrons is engravings of husbands' portraits in moonstones for finger rings. The cost is several thousands and is considered very katish.

A New York writer challenges anyone to name a child prodigy amounting to anything after 21. With no more mental strain than required to write this we think of Fritz Kreisler. Also Lila Lee, Eddie Cantor and George Jessel. O, yes and Heifetz!

Elsie Janis, too, as prodigy has not done so badly. Perhaps the most idolized wonder kiddie of this genre is Jackie Coogan, who now asks to be called Jack. It will be interesting to watch his career, if any.

The radio just then began suddenly to blurt that year or so ago tune "Button Up Your Overcoat," and turned thoughts entirely from columnar channels. One of our boyhood pals was Earl Mauck, known to local spit-an-whiffers as "Squire." He never buttoned his overcoat. I see him yet, splitting up Second street with his coat tails flying. Finally all of us got to doing it—a gesture of small town swank like wearing a finger ring around a four-in-hand tie. The same overcoat looseness is now featured by ebony swells of Harlem.

PROPER VENTILATION
Gas poisoning is not uncommon. We read of it daily in the papers. The city hospitals are always caring for cases of this sort.

A great deal was learned concerning gas poisoning during the World War. With the added popularity of the automobile more victims of gas poisoning are coming to our attention.

"Carbon monoxide," the poisonous ingredient of most gas, is the element that produces the marked and dangerous symptoms. As a matter of fact, carbon monoxide is one of the most deadly of the gas poisons.

This particular gas combines with the blood, producing a chemical reaction of great damage to the body. Carbon monoxide produces more deaths than any other poison known. It is present in illuminating gas. It is liberated by incomplete combustion of the gasoline in the automobile. It is found in coal mines. In natural gas and in turbine gas.

Since the damaging effect of this gas is very rapid, great attention must be paid to the prevention of undue exposure to it. Never run your automobile motor in a closed garage. If you are tuning up your motor, or tinkering with the car with the motor running, make sure the doors and windows are wide open. This is most imperative. I cannot be too emphatic in regard to this precaution.

All leaks in gas pipes should be repaired. Burning of gas jets at night is dangerous. Occasionally the gas pressures varies, and more gas may escape than is burning. Winds and draughts will blow out a small gas flame, but, of course, does not turn off the gas. Many cases of gas poisoning occur in this way.

Proper ventilation must be maintained at all times. This is particularly true in homes that are heated by hot-air furnaces.

The chief signs of poisoning by gas are dizziness, headache, noises in the ears, nausea and vomiting usually precede a sleepiness feeling which soon comes on.

The services of a doctor are extremely necessary for the care of one who has been gassed. While waiting for the doctor see that the patient receives plenty of fresh air. He should be kept warm and, if necessary, artificial respiration must be applied. If this is not needed, and his breathing is normal, keep him quiet.

Most people are under the impression that walking will stimulate the heart and lungs. In this type of gas poisoning it is best that there be no strain placed upon the heart. The patient should be kept in bed, warmth applied and stimulants given if necessary. Hot coffee may be given liberally.

In a more serious case of gas poisoning it is only by the use of the pulmotor that resuscitation can be accomplished. These machines are now found in all hospitals, police quarters and in municipal centers.

Call up the police department, the health department or the gas company.

LARGE ORDERS ARE BOOKED AT POTTERY SHOW

Signs Of Further Recovery In Employment Are Seen

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—Signs of further recovery in business and employment here were forecast today with the announcement of several large orders received by manufacturers.

It was stated authoritatively that between $15,000,000 and $25,000,000 worth of glass and pottery products are to be purchased within the next 10 days from manufacturers. The annual pottery and glass show, where seven East Liverpool, O., district manufacturers have exhibits, is now under way here.

Officials of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company announced that they recently received a $250,000 order for four 25,000-Kva self-cooled air-blast transformers for the Pacific Gas & Electric Co., large utilities concern of the west coast.

J. M. Hammer, assistant secretary and exposition director of the associated glass and pottery manufacturers, said that the effects of this business would reach into Ohio and West Virginia, including East Liverpool, Steubenville, Zanesville, Sebring, Wheeling, New Martinsville and Paden City districts.

Roosevelt dam supplies the water. The Western Fruit Jobbers association has a convention attended by 16 railroad presidents, one railroad chairman, 30 railroad vice presidents, General Atterbury of the Pennsylvania, President Paul Shoup of the Southern Pacific, speak at a luncheon of about 1,000 in the open air, an airplane taking photographs.

You know why so many big railroad men are there when you learn that the rich irrigated soil of this valley sends out thousands of carloads of melons, lettuce and other products. You meet one man whose company cultivates 29,000 irrigated acres, tractors working 24 hours a day the year around. A farmer who uses his tractor for two weeks, then puts it away to rust, can't compete with that.

More about this state tomorrow. You ought to see Arizona with one county bigger than New Jersey, it's total population less than that of Newark. Plenty of room, wonderful opportunities here. When you come, bring money. And don't forget to stop at Prescott, and ask for Grace Sparkes.

Then come here and talk city with W. W. Knorr, newspaper publisher of Phoenix. And from here travel down to Tucson, on to Nogales where Mexico begins.

If climate interests you, if you would be rid of sinus or other trouble, come to this state. The crowd sitting outdoors at luncheon today wore their hats to ward off the hot sunshine.

Few realize what this nation has to offer. Arizona is one of the very best possessions with potentialities and certainties of wealth undreamed of.

DUBUQUE, Ia.—Alfred Boge, 28, dressed himself in feminine attire, including corset and dainty underclothes, and came here from his home in New Vienna for a lark. He went back home the next day, minus his costume and $100. All went well throughout the evening until Boge undertook to show two women his negligee. The witnesses called police.

Natty Male Dresser To Use Bottle Green Shade In 1931

Old Reliable Dark Blue Will Do As Alternate, Designers Say; Broad Shoulders, Slim Waists, Larger Chests In Order

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Here is how the well-dressed man will look in the spring and summer of 1931, as decreed by the International Association of Clothing Designers:

The predominating color is green.

Shoulders will be broader, waists slimmer and higher, coats longer and sleeves narrower at the hand, indicating that anything but the slender man will be passe.

Bottle green and a deep, dark blue are the predominating colors for sports wear, and a return of the notched lapel is favored. Sports coats to be worn with flannels are trimmed with white pearl buttons, patch pockets and belted backs, and one display of business suits was of bright green, elaborated with bright green buttons.

For the well dressed man, H. K. Burnham, secretary of the association, issued this style forecast at the close of the organization's semi-annual convention:

"There will be a decided tendency toward square shoulders of generous width for sack coats, and definite outlines will be streamlined, while the general outlook will be more slender than heretofore.

Larger Chests, Men!

"Suit coats will be a quarter of an inch to an inch longer, the chest effect will be broad and generous. Waists will be defined and rather high. Pockets, too, will be set rather high. "Sleeves will be narrow at the hand without being stunted. One-button coats will be a predominating feature, while the most outstanding newer effects will be expressed in sports wear. In topcoats various types of outer garments ranging from dress garments similar to sacks to the larger roomy overgarment featuring half-belt will be much in demand.

L. C. B. A. HOLDS ANNIVERSARY DINNER PARTY

To celebrate its 30th anniversary, the Ladies' Catholic Benefit association, held a dinner party Thursday evening at the Schafer Green room.

The tables at which 81 members were seated presented a beautiful appearance in a decorative motif of white and gold, the association's colors. Spring flowers and candles were used. The favors were small yellow baskets filled with candy.

The handpainted place cards were made by Mary Burke. They were a water lily design.

After dinner, the women went to the Knights of Columbus hall, South Broadway, for an informal reception.

Cards were a favorite diversion. In the "500" games the prize was won by Mrs. Frank Schmidt, while the euchre prize went to Miss Margaret Becker. Mrs. P. J. Redington received the guest prize.

Mrs. John Enright, who has been president of the Salem branch for eight consecutive years, was presented a traveling bag in appreciation of her work. The presentation speech was made by Miss Helen Kaley, member of the committee which arranged the affair.

The branch has 12 charter members. Three charter members were at the celebration, Mrs. Alex McLaughlin, Mrs. Martin Aley and Mrs. Henry Derfus.

The Salem branch has received an invitation to a meeting and luncheon of the N. C. C. W. at Akron Saturday. It will be held at the Women's club in that city.

SPENCER CLASS

Officers were elected for the ensuing year at a meeting of the Spencer class of the Presbyterian church Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. R. L. Wright, Woodland avenue.

Mrs. Edna Trotter was chosen president. Her associate officers are: Vice president, Mrs. Walter Clark; secretary, Mrs. C. E. Phillips; treasurer, Miss Mae Morton.

Letters from Mrs. Harold P. Brannan, written while on her way and after her arrival in South America, were read.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wright and her associate hostesses, Mrs. Thomas Spencer, Mrs. James Britt, Mrs. Vaughn Yates and Mrs. Andrew Hodge, Jr. There were 35 in attendance.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

Mrs. Curtis Toet conducted the installation of officers for Friendship temple No. 100, Pythian Sisters, at a meeting Thursday evening at the hall, North Broadway. She was assisted in the ceremonies by Mrs. William Probert and Mrs. E. H. Ward.

The losers in the recent contest, captained by Mrs. Probert, served a two-course dinner for the winners, captained by Mrs. Blanche Scullion. Cards entertained. In two weeks the members will meet again.

MOOSE WOMEN HOLD PARTY

Prizes were given in the card games at the party held by Salem chapter No. 68, Women of the Mooseheart legion, Wednesday evening at the hall, East State street.

Joseph Birkhimer, Miss Myra Balsley and Mr. and Mrs. William Carlisle won the "500" prizes, while the euchre prizes were awarded Mrs. V. Bruder, Michael Bonfert, Ralph Stoffer, Salem, and Mrs. Grace Stahl, Leetoria.

The chapter will hold another party in two weeks.

LEAP YEAR CLUB

Contests and select readings added interest at a meeting of the Leap Year club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rosa Auld, East Third street. Contest honors were shared by Mrs. Harry Gardner and Mrs. John Green. Lunch was served. In two weeks the members will be guests of Mrs. Mattie Read, Cleveland street.

Wagner Is Named Head Of Hospital

ALLIANCE, Jan. 15.—Henry W. Wagner, 1435 Robinwood road, was appointed superintendent of the Alliance City hospital Tuesday by Safety-Service Director R. H. Donaldson and Mayor Carl P. Hani. He began his new duties Wednesday.

Wagner, associated with Graham and Wagner in the monument business, disposed of his interests in the firm Tuesday. His successor in the firm has not been named.

The new hospital head was selected from a large group of applicants. He takes the position left vacant through the resignation of Alfred H. Simmons.

Wagner has been in Alliance about eight years. He has been in the monument business four years and before that was in the automobile business in Lisbon for a year and a half and in Alliance for five years.

DAMAGE SUITS TOTAL $105,000

Traction Company Is Defendant As Aftermath Of Fatality

LISBON, Jan. 16.—Three damage actions, aggregating $105,000, have been filed in common pleas court against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co.

Gilbert Deem as an individual has filed a suit for $50,000 for the death of his wife following injuries she sustained when an automobile driven by John F. Buchanan was struck by a car of the defendant company. She suffered a fractured skull, when the machine in which she was riding was struck at the intersection of East Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue, East Liverpool, Jan. 16, 1929. She died in the East Liverpool City hospital the following day.

Deem, as administrator of the estate of his wife, also filed a suit against the company for $50,000 in this petition.

Dollie Lamam, of R. F. D. No. 1, Wellsville, a minor, and through her next friend, who claims to have been injured in the same accident has filed a petition seeking $5,000 damages.

The petitions charge negligence upon the part of the operator of the care of the defendant company.

Damage Is $10,000 In Alliance Blaze

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 16.—A blaze estimated by firemen to have done a damage of $10,000 threatened the entire plant of the Hillman-Lane Co., pipe organ manufacturers, here yesterday before it was brought under control.

STABS WITNESS FOR STATE IN MURDER TRIAL

Unknown Assailant Flees After Attacking Woman

(By Associated Press)

PORTLAND, ORE., Jan. 16.—An attempt to kill Mrs. H. W. Howard, prosecution witness in the forthcoming trial of Nelson C. Bowles, young Portland millionaire and his former secretary, Irma G. Loucks, 28, for the murder of Mrs. Bowles, engrossed prosecuting authorities here today.

Stabbings Are Similar

Like Mrs. Bowles, Mrs. Howard was stabbed yesterday, near the heart. Officers said a man sprang from behind a door with a drawn knife and wielded it with the exclamation "I'll get you this time!"

It was the second attack on Mrs. Howard since she appeared as a "mystery witness" against the millionaire and his former employee. Last December 2, a man entered Mrs. Howard's home, beat her severely and threatened her with death if she testified for the state.

Mrs. Howard was stabbed twice above the heart, slashed across the face and beaten on the head. She was reported in a critical condition. The assailant escaped.

Dies In Apartment

Mrs. Bowles died from a knife wound inflicted while she was in Miss Loucks's apartment last November. Both Bowles and Miss Loucks, who were present, told police Mrs. Bowles had stabbed herself.

Discrepancies in the statement of a physician who had been called to attend Mrs. Bowles led to the arrest of Bowles and Miss Loucks.

DEATHS

ISAAC ESTERLY

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 16.—Isaac Esterly, 75, life resident here, died at 8 p. m. Thursday at his home on North Main street. Death followed a lingering illness due to complications.

Mr. Esterly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Esterly, was born Feb. 5, 1856, one mile west of here. He was a member of the Methodist church and the Odd Fellows lodge.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Esterly, and several nieces and nephews.

The body was removed to Warrick's funeral home and will be taken back to the home Saturday afternoon.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in charge of Rev. C. R. McMeekin. Interment will be in the Columbiana mausoleum. The Odd Fellow lodge will have charge at the mausoleum.

Pittsburgh District Will Call Hundreds Back To Work Soon

(By International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—Hundreds of previously idle men have been called back to work and several hundred others will be given employment within a few days in the Pittsburgh district, an announcement made today by local manufacturers.

The resumption of operations of many plants in the district was hailed as a decided upturn in business and relief of the unemployment condition.

Another prosperity note was the announcement that the National Tube Co., a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corp., had been awarded a contract for 80,000 tons of seamless gas line pipe. The price involved was not announced but it was estimated to be between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

F. W. Waterman, president of National Tube, refused to disclose the name of the purchaser according to the company's policy.

The Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. was said to have been awarded a contract for pipe for part of a line to be constructed from Washington, Pa., to Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md.

More than 250 men now are back at work at the Arnold plant of the American Window Glass Co., which was reopened yesterday.

CHECKS ON BOW ACCOUNT SHOWN IN COURTROOM

Used As Exhibits In Support Of Embezzlement Charge

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—Hundreds of cancelled checks by which the state contends it will prove Daisy De Boe embezzled $16,000 from her erstwhile employer, Clara Bow, screen star were in evidence in the trial of the former secretary today.

Describes Checks
George Armstrong auditor, sat in the witness stand most of yesterday describing the checks in detail while the crowds that had flocked to the courtroom for a glimpse of the red-haired actress dwindled to a handful.

The checks, Armstrong explained, were a record of the special Clara Bow account, to which Miss De Boe had access for two years as Clara's secretary, and Miss De Boe's account. He said checks amounting to approximately $48,000 had disappeared.

Marjorie Fairchild, district attorney's investigator, who first questioned Miss De Boe and obtained jewelry, love letters and telegrams from her safety deposit box, described some of the things found.

Vanity Case Exhibited
There was a diamond-studded vanity case, she testified, which Miss De Boe said she took from the actress' home because "Clara let her dogs play with it." Miss Fairchild testified the defendant admitted taking the things "because it was so easy to get them from a careless child like Clara."

Armstrong said some of the cancelled checks bore such legends as "52 Clara borrowed from me," "due for makeup for Clara," and "500 Clara's birthday present to me." He said all he found to represent the missing $48,000 were a few check stubs marked "not used."

North Georgetown Man Goes To Jail

LISBON, Jan. 16.—On an affidavit filed in probate court by Fred Matti, of North Georgetown, Edward Ritchey of the same locality has been sent to the county jail for 10 days and fined $10 and costs. A charge of assault and battery was filed against Ritchey and also Roy Schupfer, but Schupfer has been held for a hearing in juvenile court.

Both young men, it is charged, beat Matti when they met on a highway, and were arrested by Sheriff W. J. Barlow and Deputy Sheriff William L. Virden.

Mr. Kingdom, Methodist, characterized Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, in a rotary speech.

FALLS CITY, NEBR.—Perhaps Frank Camblin wishes he were back on the police force. In his 20 years as a cop he was never hurt.

Shortly after resigning he crushed a foot while trimming a tree, lost two fingers in a saw and received a broken leg when struck by an automobile.

MONTREAL—There shall be jobs in St. Cuneoged Ward if possible no matter how long it takes to remove the snow. Up to date equipment which clears the streets quickly was at work.

A crowd of unemployed warmed around saying things. Alderman Gabias had the equipment removed, and men put to work with shovels.

WASHINGTON—Joseph W. Tolbert, Republican national committeeman for South Carolina, never wears a necktie. He appeared at the White House reception to senators without one. Ties, he holds, are useless.

SANTIAGO, CHILE—John S. Culbertson, American ambassador, is planning to fly with Captain Ralph W. Wootton over wild jungle areas and down to Tierra Del Fuego to look at terrain never seen by man from the air.

KNOXVILLE—Queen Elizabeth, a Barred Rock hen, recently completed a year's laying, breaking the Southern laying record by producing 320 eggs in 365 days. Previously the record was held by her grandmother, who laid 319 in the same period.

Today's Pattern

Femininity in the mode finds charming expression in this lovely frock with gracefully flared front collar and skirt flare. So cleverly joined to correspond. The dainty lace vestie adds a flattering touch. Note the fine tucks at the back neck, a detail that makes for perfect fit. The sleeves are trimmed with small, fabric covered buttons.

Pattern 2073 makes up beautifully in flat or canton crepe, satin, faille, georgette, or triple voile. There are exquisite shades of gold, rust, grey, green blue and rose that are delightful under sombre top coats. Cream or ecru lace may be used.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

COUPON

This pattern will be delivered upon receipt of 15c, coin or stamps, carefully wrapped. Latest fashion book 15c. Send all orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 WEST 17TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

VICTIM OF NEURITIS PAINS FINDS NEW HOPE IN OWA-TON-NA

This Fine Old Indian Remedy Brings Canton Woman Relief from Severe Rheumatic Pains Headaches and Backaches

MRS. RAY L. PARRISH

Mrs. Ray L. Parrish, R. F. D. No. 3, Canton, Ohio says: "Nothing I can say can possibly tell you how thankful I am to Owa-Ton-Na. I suffered so severely from neuritis pains in my arm and shoulders that I had to give up my work. Now I am again well and happy. When I finally decided to try Owa-Ton-Na, I surely was in a badly run-down condition but it didn't take this fine old Indian remedy long to rout these terrible poisons from my system."

"In just a short time my stomach was acting normally again, headaches and dizzy spells disappeared, my bowels acted regularly. Each day my kidneys showed wonderful improvement and then the pains started to leave me. Now I am back to work and can take care of it just as well as ever. Food digests properly, pains in my back and thighs are gone. Owa-Ton-Na certainly is a wonderful medicine and deserves no end of credit. I certainly deem it a pleasure to recommend such a fine medicine."

Time after time Owa-Ton-Na has brought results when methods generally employed have failed. Owa-Ton-Na's remarkable success has made it the most popular remedy wherever it has been introduced. Sold in Salem at the U. H. Lease Drug Co. Store and Broadway Lease Store.—Adv.

Tax Suit Filed By Wellsville Bank

LISBON, Jan. 16.—A temporary restraining order has been granted by Judge W. F. Lones in common pleas court against Fred George, as county treasurer, preventing the immediate collection of 1930 taxes from the Peoples National Bank of Wellsville, as a corporation and also from its shareholders. The petition has been filed by Wells and McDonald of Wellsville as counsel for the bank. In a second petition filed against the county treasurer by this bank, judgment for $4,429.38 is asked. This is the amount of taxes the bank and its shareholders paid the county for 1929. These two suits are similar to those filed against the county by other national banks in the county.

Husband Of Salem Woman Is Killed

McClellan Anderson, Guilford, Miss., was killed in an accident Tuesday according to information received here. Mr. Anderson was on his way to work when his automobile was struck by a train.

The body was taken to Indianapolis for burial. Mr. Anderson's wife was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holloway, former Salem residents. Mrs. Charles Paxson of Salem is her aunt.

Identifies Robber

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 16.—C. W. Menter, cashier of the Stony Ridge, O. bank, yesterday identified a man giving his name as Orrie W. Perley, 39, Leipsic, as one of a trio who robbed the bank Dec. 9, escaping with $1,900, police said.

Slate Fall Fatal

GLOUCESTER, O., Jan. 16.—A fall of slate at No. 10 mine of the Sunday Creek Coal company yesterday killed Wilford T. Gladden.

Lith Hurls Challenge At Manassa Mauler

A fiercely worded challenge to fight "in the United States within the next six weeks" was hurled by Jack Sharkey (above) at Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, in a telegram sent by Sharkey to the "Manassa Mauler" at Hartford, Conn. Sharkey suggests that the bout be promoted to relieve the suffering of the unemployed and wounded veterans of the World War.

MOVIES

"OH FOR A MAN"

At The Grand
Jeanette MacDonald and Reginald Denny are co-featured in "Oh For a Man!" playing at the Grand theater, which is the story of a burglar who came to rob the apartment of a prima donna and remained to steal her heart.

Marjorie White and Warren Hymer furnish the comedy high points of the picture with other important players, including Albert Conti, Bela Lugosi, Alison Skipworth.

Jeanette MacDonald, "Carolina Manon," is, in the story, a successful and beautiful prima donna.

The prima donna goes to bed, to be awakened in the dead of the night by a burglar, Reginald Denny, come to steal her jewels. She verbally fences with the burglar, learns he is ambitious to be a singer, promises to get him an audition and falls in love with him.

So much does she adore the man and his physical charms that she abandons her career to marry him and go to Italy on a honeymoon.

Then trouble ensues, separation comes and finally the pair reunite, but not before some real entertaining happenings have transpired on the screen.

"REMOTE CONTROL"

At The State

"Remote Control," in which William Haines makes his latest talkie appearance and which is now playing at the State is regarded as the best-suited vehicle in which the versatile star has been seen since "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

Like the former hit, "Remote Control" combines a mystery plot with comedy situations. However, the new talkie is particularly of interest in affording Haines an hitherto unrevealed outlet for his talents as a comedian, namely, that of an impersonator of well known radio stars. This occurs in a sequence in which Haines puts on an entire radio program by himself imitating such prominent favorites as Amos 'n' Andy, Graham McNamee, Uncle "N" Andy and a variety of others.

The picture is laid "behind the scenes" in Station WPN, lending a novel atmosphere to the plot which concerns the clever direction of the activities of a band of crooks by means of a nightly broadcast of a clairvoyant's readings.

"LUCKY LARKIN"

At The Royal

Ken Maynard rides and fights his way through some of the most exciting adventures of his career in "Lucky Larkin" which opens at the Royal theater tonight.

In "Lucky Larkin" Maynard lives up to his reputation for highly dramatic pictures which avoid the stereotyped variety. "Lucky Larkin" in addition to its rapid-fire action, is rich in humorous sequences.

The story tells the story of a band of Kentuckians who are homesteading in the West. They are the victims of a reign of terror caused by a rich stockman, whose enmity towards the homesteaders is increased by their envy of the fast horses owned by their leader, Colonel Lee.

Maynard, in the role of "Lucky" Larkin, crack western rider, befriends the homesteaders and rides into a very hornet's nest of conflict and intrigue. There is a rousing finish in the shape of one of the most exciting horse races ever filmed.

Youngstown East Invades Salem With Fast Offense Tonight

THE DAY In Sports

EAST PALESTINE STRONG
THREE STILL IN RACE
THINKING THINGS OVER

Over in East Palestine backers of Perry Van Hining's basketball team are enthusiastically predicting that their scholastic case representatives will, when 1931 basketball activities are duly summarized, be awarded the Columbiana county basketball championship. The team's unexpected victory over Campbell Memorial and the fact that this year Palestine plays Salem on its (Palestine's) home hardwoods, are given as basis for this optimism. It will be the first time in ten years that the title has gone to that section of the county if their predictions are correct.

Van Hining's team surprised self styled dope experts in trimming Memorial for the latter had just finished dusting off Akron North, one of the city's leading teams, by exploiting a great offense that enabled it to roll up an early 11-1 lead and prevent Campbell from even threatening to win. That Palestine had a difficult time trimming Columbiana, 13-11, is laid more to over-confidence and to Columbiana's strength than to any weaknesses in the makeup of Palestine's team.

East Liverpool has been eliminated from a place among ranks of contenders for county basketball laurels, the race now involving Salem, Wellsville and East Palestine. Palestine has yet to play one of the three leading county schools but plays Salem Jan. 20, Wellsville on Feb. 14, and Liverpool on Feb. 27. Its game with Wellsville is the only one scheduled away from home, giving Palestine a distinct advantage, for it surely goes strong on its home hardwoods.

Salem High fans not wishing to follow their team to New Philadelphia Saturday night will be able to get a glimpse of basketball as played in the Penn-Ohio German league when Salem and Homestead, Pa., Saxons clash at the Memorial building.

League encounters are among hardest fought battles scheduled here this year, plenty of action and thrills being available while afterwards fans can avail themselves of entertainment as furnished by Ray Bartholomew's orchestra at the Transylvanian hall, Railroad street.

The Saxons will play their third league championship in four years. They defeated Alliance, 38-25 last Saturday night in the league opener. A preliminary will be played at 8 Saturday.

Thinking it over—it seems the heavyweight situation became no better in the arrangement to have Young Schmelzer meet W. L. (Young) Strubling, next June for the heavyweight championship. The only good may be to bring Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey into a squared circle together again for the former appears to have certainly aroused Mr. Cukoschay's ire in saying that the Garrulous Goe would be a certain knockout victim should they meet again.

They might be hired to battle at Reilly athletic stadium as the feature of an evening's entertainment that would feature the Grove Electric and Golden Eagle in a basketball game played in football suits. The latter, however, would probably bring out even more action than the fist encounter if their first meeting at the Memorial building can be taken as an indication.

Joe Kelley says 65 teams play basketball at the Memorial building. That means some merchants have been selling lots of shoes, sweat socks, jerseys and so on. The worst of depressions won't bring any decrease in money spent on sports. Athletics certainly represent a mighty business.

Sure signs of spring* * * schedules for the coming season in the American association baseball league have been received. * * * workouts will soon start for track at Salem High. * * *

Quakers' Defense Will Undergo Rigid Test In Game With Strong Five

A fast-forming offensive combination, similar to one which brought Youngstown East a 28-26 victory over Salem High last season, will be the Mahoning county school's main threat in its invasion of the Salem team's home gymnasium tonight.

Victors over Struthers High by a 28-20 score last week East has a team which is gradually showing improvement and one which is expected to give the Red and Black a hard battle when the teams clash here. The Youngstowners have played only two games, registering a victory over Struthers in the second while the first was lost to Girard by a 25-16 count.

Salem enters the contest a decided favorite despite the fact that a Red and Black cage aggregation has never yet trimmed an East team in cage competition. In 1929, when Salem was presumed to have a formidable aggregation, East presented a defense that the Quakers were never able to fathom and the Youngstowners won 20-11. Last

SPRINGFIELD TO LEAVE CENTRAL

Minor Baseball League Is Hit As Second Team Quits Circuit

(By Associated Press)
DAYTON, Jan. 16.—Springfield has thrown up the sponge in the Central Baseball league and given the circuit the problem of finding a second new franchise for the coming season.

Joe Dunn, manager and owner of the Springfield club, announced the withdrawal at the annual meeting last night and said he would establish a Three Eye league franchise at Bloomington, Ill.

The Central league now must replace Springfield as well as Richmond, Ind., which withdrew in the middle of last season. The future of the Dayton club also was regarded as uncertain, but Don Jacobs, league president, announced he was confident that the six-club circuit would be filled out with the next two weeks. Portsmouth is among the cities believed to have asked membership.

Port Wayne, Ind., Canton, O., and Erie, Pa., with Dayton are the remaining members.

Tech Seeks Sixth Cage Win Of Year

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 16.—Carnegie Tech's basketball team will go after its fourth consecutive victory Saturday when Pete Henry's W & J aggregation will be entertained in the Tartan gymnasium.

A win over the Presidents will run the Plaid's string to six for the season, almost as many triumphs as have been scored in the previous three campaigns.

One of Uncle Sam's Champ. Tennis Players

Jack McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McLean, of Washington, is not only the boy champion of tennis circles in the national capital, but also holds the Middle Atlantic States' title. He is regarded as one of the six best boy players (under 15 years of age) in the United States.

season a strong offense was East's biggest asset Salem being nosed out in a sensational contest at Youngstown.

Hanna, East center who bagged 17 points to lead his team to a victory over Struthers, will give the Youngstowners a big advantage unless Salem's pivot man, Norman Early, finds it possible to stop him. Using Hanna as the main cog in a speedy offensive formation, Vicarel and Martin also have outscored opponents, a three-man offense bringing best results for the victors.

One Veteran At East
Only one veteran will be back with the invaders, Honey, a guard who already has been forced onto the players' bench by performance of members of the last year's reserve team. Martin and Pugh are used at forwards. Hanna at center and Vicarel and DePetro at guards to form East's starting lineup in both games played to-date.

In that East bases nearly all its hopes on its offensive onslaught, Salem's defense will undergo a rigid test. In games played so far this season the Red and Black has displayed a strong defense, using Earley, Paul Sartick and Tom French as main defenses while Ed Beck and William Smith have monopolized scoring honors. The defensive work of the former two has been outstanding, each of the players also registering their share of points in majority of games played.

Changed Lineup May Start
Indications at practices this week appeared to point towards possibilities of a changed lineup taking the floor for the Quakers. Sartick and Earley were relegated to second string positions several times with Furr Sidinger and Richard Faxon taking their places. Quaker coaches facing a stiff problem in selection of stronger of two squads, the first and second teams battling to almost equal honors in majority of scrimmages Nedelka and Gordy Scullion may also get their chance to break into a starting lineup, both having shown well in this week's workouts.

Three games will be played tonight, the first involving reserve teams from East High and Salem while Salem High girls meet a team of alumni stars in the main preliminary. Melba Barnes, Anna Zelle, Hazel Beck Roessler, Betty Moss, Elizabeth Riddle and other former high luminaries will appear in the ex-high lineup.

The reserve team will be seeking its seventh consecutive victory against the East second-stringers.

Carideo's Greatest Thrill Came In First Grid Battle Of College Career In 1928

By PAUL MICKELSON
(By Associated Press)

[Editor's Note.—This is the final of a series of stories on the intimate football experiences of Frank Carideo, Notre Dame's all-American football star.]

SOUTH BEND, IND., Jan. 16.—Frank Carideo marshaled two of the mightiest teams in football history, won unanimous selections as the all-American quarterback two years straight, heard more than a million fans cheer his exploits and yet—

His greatest thrill of all came on the first play he ever made for Notre Dame—a play that didn't even muster a cheer. The play was his first tackle.

My thrill of thrills in football came on an afternoon in October 1928," said the one-man symphony in leather with a reminiscent gleam in his sharp eyes. "We were being pushed all over the field by little Loyola college of New Orleans and Coach Rockne, perhaps in desperation, sent me into the games with a flock of sobs. No sooner had I staggered, stage struck, into the game when a Loyola back wriggled through and charged at me—the last obstacle between him and touchdown.

"The Big Thrill"
"I lunged at him wildly with everything I had and downed him. I hugged him for what seemed to me to be an hour—he must have thought I was a mad man—and got my big thrill when the referee called me away. I'll never forget it."

A quarterback who calls a play and then backs down from it at the insistence of his dubious mates never will be a success, Carideo believes. "Once you decide on a play, carry it through," he explained.

"Every quarterback sometime will experience a mild rebellion among his teammates. During the game with the Navy last fall I had min-

BAER TO BATTLE VETERAN HEENEY IN GOTHAM RING

Young Californian Heavy Favorite To Defeat Rugged Smithy

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—An ambitious youngster looking forward to a chance to fight for the heavy weight championship and a fading veteran who has had that chance and failed in the feature ten round bout of Madison Square Garden's boxing card tonight. Young Max Baer, heavy punching Californian, makes his second New York appearance against Tom Heenev, veteran New Zealand.

In Baer's first garden bout he dropped a close decision in ten rounds to Ernie Schaaf, of Boston.

Heenev's career reached its climax in the summer of 1928 when the rugged blacksmith met Gene Tunney, then heavyweight champion, who scientifically cut old Tom to pieces, stopping him in the eleventh round.

Baer's youth and strength plus the admitted fact that Heenev is not the rugged old warhorse he once was have made the young Californian a heavy favorite.

Jack Dempsey, who once said Baer was the most promising young heavyweight he had seen, probably will referee the bout.

Paul Swiderski, of Syracuse, N. Y., battles Marty Gallagher of Washington, and Stanley Porcia of Jersey City, takes on Tony Starr of New York, in the other ten rounds on the all-heavyweight card.

The ball was in midfield in our possession. It was our turn and three to go. I decided to try for a first down instead of punting. Several of the fellows told me I was going to risk it. But I stuck by my guns, we made the first down by the unexpected thrust and marched down for the first and psychological touchdown. Never again was my judgment, as quick as it must be in a fast game, disputed by the team.

Blames "Accidents" Carideo attributes his whole football career—a career that will be extended as a teacher next fall when he drills Purdue's backfield—to "accidents." He accidentally got into football at Mount Vernon, New York high school when 15 years old; he accidentally started his quarterback career at Dean Academy, Franklin, Mass., when the coach used him because the other quarterbacks forgot signals and he was transformed to quarterback from halfback at Notre Dame by Rockne for just about the same reason.

"But no accident will ever cause Notre Dame to forget him," joined in Knute Rockne. "He was one of the smartest players Notre Dame ever had and I think he will go far in the coaching world—with no accidents."

ASK COUNTIES TO SET ASIDE CASH FOR FAIRS

Ohio Managers Will Urge Mandatory Legislation

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16.—Legislation to compel county commissioners to set aside money for the holding of county fairs was urged recently at a joint meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers' association and the state department of agriculture.

The recommendation came from Judge J. L. Holdeman, of Dayton, president of the fair managers group. The proposal is designed to insure the permanency of the county expositions, many of which have been abandoned in recent years because of a lack of funds.

At present county commissioners are empowered, if they see fit, to spend $10,000 for a fair, but it is only in rare instances that they see fit, Holdeman said. Existing laws apportion a state per capita tax of $800 and an amount ranging from $1,500 to $2,000 to encourage fairs, but instead of this figure, some members of the association want the $100,000 from county budgets made mandatory.

The county fair had changed from the old horse and buggy type to one of educational value, Holdeman said.

The convention will continue through tomorrow. Governor George White will be the honor guest at a banquet tonight.

Consider the Wooden Tools.
The wooden tool rack, between mixing table and kitchen stove, is coming back into favor. For there are many foods which call for wooden mixing tools. A wooden spoon for mixing batter or stirring stewed fruit; wooden forks for whipping up acid dressings; the wooden potato beetle, rolling-pin, wooden moulds for shaping; butter, and so on.

Wooden tools are best suspended on a rack than kept in a drawer. Easier to reach, also they are thus insured against dampness. One of the objections to wooden tools, even by those who like handling them, is the bit of extra work in keeping them perfectly dry. They don't dry of themselves in a moment, after a hot soapy wash and a scalding rinse, the way china does. Nor can they be dried as quickly as silver. Wood needs thorough scrubbing and cleaning, and a very thorough drying. Some of it can be left to a vigorous ovel rub, but if the wooden article is suspended on a rack, instead of closed in a drawer, nature takes its course. It gets air dried in due time, and is always in good condition for immediate use.

Racks come in all sizes—with hooks or thin rails, so that all sorts of utensils can be kept within eyesight. Mixing and cutting tools can be suspended on the projecting pegs, shallow mixing bowls can be slipped in the space between rack and outer guard.

Then there are wooden racks

DROUGHT RELIEF FUND

An appeal to the Citizens of Salem

DURING the last ten days demands on the American Red Cross for emergency assistance in the drought-stricken areas of 21 of our Middle Western and Southern States have trebled.

Reports coming in from hour to hour reveal untold suffering. Low food and water supplies have aggravated the winter hardships. Only now are the people of these stricken communities feeling acutely the dire results of last summer's torrid weather.

The American Red Cross is requesting a fund of $10,000,000 to aid these people in their emergency.

The work of relief in the entire territory will be in the hands of the Red Cross, but our available funds are far short of meeting the present situation. In his proclamation the President of the United States calls upon American citizens to help the Red Cross alleviate the suffering of these unfortunates.

The people of Salem are earnestly requested to respond to this call as they have responded to similar ones in the past. Already the number of sufferers amounts to hundreds of thousands and funds for their relief are needed immediately.

Since the Washington Headquarters of the Red Cross will bear the expenses of the administration, all contributions to the Drought Relief Fund will be spent for relief. The primary expenditure is for food, housing and medical attention. The impoverished condition of the sufferers in these 21 states leads to the constant menace of disease and epidemic. Assistance in giving relief in this emergency is imperative.

In accordance with these appeals, the Salem Chapter of the American Red Cross will receive contributions at its headquarters at the Memorial Building, also at the First National Bank, Farmers National Bank and Citizens Savings Bank

Fine Clothes Lost Lady Diplomat Her Post

Mme. Kollontai, Russian Envoy to Sweden, Finds Popularity Wane as Stalin, "Iron Man of the Soviet," Withdraws Patronage, Leaving the Communist and Autocrat at the Mercy of Radicals Who Assert She Is "Too Bourgeois."

TOWN OF OSLO, SWEDEN. MME. MICHAELOVNA KOLLONTAI. MME. KOLLONTAI WHILE IN MEXICO.

STOCKHOLM — Madame Michaelovna Kollontai, who has been called the world's foremost woman diplomat because of her appointment as a Soviet Ambassador, is in disgrace. She has been fired from her last job as Ambassador to Sweden.

The Communists are mad at her, because they say she has been living "too bourgeois" a life at Oslo and Stockholm. She wears beautiful and expensive clothes and travels about the city in a gorgeous state coach drawn by four black Arabian horses. The Communists are against ostentation as a bourgeois vulgarity. They dislike a flaunting display, especially in one who is their representative in a country which they are anxious to impress with the new regime.

LOST PATRONAGE
But Mme. Kollontai might still be riding behind her Arabian horses in Oslo, clad in her rich coat of chinchilla and black taffeta gown if she hadn't had a falling out with Joseph Stalin, head of the Communist party. For Stalin is the "Iron Man" of the Soviet republic. He drove Leon Trotsky, former head of the Red Army, into exile to Constantinople. Born in Georgia, south of the Caucasian mountains, this son of a shoemaker, controls the lives and destinies of some 150,000,000 people.

POPULARITY WANES
Mme. Kollontai has not alone fallen out with Stalin, but she has not been on good terms with Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet foreign commissar. She did not keep it a secret that she considered this gentleman an upstart. It was all right for her to snub Litvinoff as long as she was under the protection of Stalin. But as soon as the "Iron Man" withdrew his patronage she discovered that she was not a popular lady any longer. Instead she floundered in the cold waters of communistic criticism.

EVENTFUL LIFE
However, she has had more than her share of acclaim. She has felt the thrill of power in a fascinating era of national life. She has witnessed the rise of a new party, the end of a capitalistic rule, and the sudden release of women from a comparative serfdom to a recognized position.

This is not the first time that the noblewoman Communist has been denounced.

BARRED BY U. S.
In 1929 she was appointed Soviet minister to Mexico. Although she had previously traveled through the United States, visiting 81 cities in a campaign in behalf of Communism and women's rights, the country was not anxious to see her again. And so she was barred from entering the United States on her way to Mexico City. But this didn't bother Mme. Kollontai. It didn't matter to her how she got to Mexico, so long as she got there.

But Mexico didn't take kindly to the lady diplomat. Mexico said she sheltered Bertram Wolfe, the American Communist, who had been expelled from that country a year before. So the labor organizations asked President Calles to expel the beautiful female minister.

President Calles didn't have to take any dramatic steps, as the lady suddenly discovered that her health demanded baths in Germany and never did return to Mexico City. Instead she went back to her former post in Norway.

Her book, entitled "Red Love," proved another bone of contention in the progress of the charming ambassador. The year 1927 rang with denunciation of the fair exponent of free love. American women, especially rose up in indignation.

Her 60 Summers sit upon her very lightly. Her bobbed hair is still a warm brown and her complexion clear. Her figure is girlish. Indeed, she gives the impression of youth with her pugnacious chin, round, large face and bright eyes. It is such women as she who really pave the way for more freedom for the weaker sex.

ARISTOCRATIC BACKGROUND
She is both a Communist and an autocrat. The daughter of a famous Czarist general, she was one of the old Russian aristocracy who renounced their high lineage to embrace Bolshevism.

Her aristocratic background makes her radical views all the more inflammable. She has been interviewed and her convictions aired in every language of the world. She is a mouthpiece for her turbulent country. If she doesn't present the sanest aspect of Russia's hopes and achievements, she does offer a romantic and stirring picture of woman's new place in this land of experiment.

PARMA, O.—Mayor Frank D. Johnson recently took a $500 voluntary reduction in his yearly salary to boost the Parma relief fund. Solicitor Walter Krewson and Engineer Verne Clark each took a $1,000 reduction to add to the same fund.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the bowels close, preparation is checked, cases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like Cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime? Adv

AIRWAY CHIEF PLANS SERVICE AROUND GLOBE

Ocean Liners, Planes,
Trucks And Trains
Links In System

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Negotiations for a freight service using planes, ocean liners, trains and motor trucks and spanning half the world were revealed today by P. E. Dewshea, manager in the United States for Imperial Airways, Ltd.

He described the plan as the "foundation for the ultimate freight scheme for the world."

Expected to start in spring of service, which contemplates transfer of freight by plane from any point in the United States to New York, thence by fast liner to Southampton, by passenger train to London, by motor truck to Croydon airport and by plane to Karachi, India, or any intermediary point, was forecast by Dewshea.

Arrangements have been completed with the Cunard and White Star lines and with British customs authorities, he said, and negotiations are nearing completion with the American Express company and American customs officials, with American airlines "ready to fall in line."

The express company would take over the handling of freight in the United States under the plan, Dewshea said. All goods arriving in New York by ship would be sent by the company to the consignee by train, plane or truck.

Speedy "Air Clearance"
A special form of speedy "air clearance" for freight shipped under the plan is to be sought from customs authorities.

Under the air-ocean plan freight will be carried from New York to Karachi in 16 days, cutting 14 days from the fastest time by steamer. Cunard line officials said. The sailing between New York and a point like Bagdad, Iraq, would be much greater. They declared—13 days by the air-ocean plan and 60 days by steamer.

GREENFORD

The attendance report for the recent Farmers' institute here shows that 1068 were at the five sessions. Forest Renkenburger, aviation mechanic, has opened a garage here. This program was given at the last meeting of Greenford grange: Reading, A. B. Williamson; current events, Ira Schumacher; original poem, L. E. Goy; report of Ohio state grange meeting by Wilbert Sheeley, North Lima. Edith Weikart was program leader.

Mrs. Idella Slagle and Mrs. Guy Freed of Alliance, and Mrs. Lottie Slagle of Greenford, attended the funeral of D. Porter Saturday afternoon at the home on Poland-Yongestown road.

O. L. Bush, who has been ill last week, is improved.

Visitors in the home of J. W. Walters Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley, of Kensington; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Roller, Canfield; Homer Rotzel, Salem; Ray Calvin and family, Locust Grove; Mrs. Charles Wilson, Russell Minner and Doris Kendig.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley of Kensington were guests Sunday in the home of O. S. Walter.

The Petersburg basketball team will play Greenford teams Friday night.

FRANKLIN SQUARE

George K. Thomas of Pittsburgh was a caller in the W. D. Marshall home one day last week.

Mrs. Mary Uncapher of East Chicago, Ind., visited with local friends last Sunday.

The Ladies Aid will meet on Wednesday at the Methodist church. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McCann were Sunday guests of Salem friends.

Mrs. Mary Flukiger and daughter Alice of Salem were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Allison.

Mrs. Jane Eyster and son, Robert of Washingtonville were recent guests of Miss Florence Wadell.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Huffnagle of Leetonia, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Baker and daughter, Mary Ellen of Warren visited in the R. B. Haldvestadt home last Sunday.

Ralph Entriiken and W. H. Marshall were Cleveland visitors Monday.

The community club in the Mt. Nebo district held its second monthly meeting at the grange hall on last Friday evening.

R. B. Haldvestadt made a business trip to Beaver Falls on Saturday.

Relatives here have been advised of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Weikart of Corapolis, Pa. The baby has been named Robert Lewis.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Thomas Woods of Bridgeport knew what county jail was like; he had spent three months there awaiting trial on a charge of statutory burglary. So when the court heeded his lawyer's plea for leniency and agreed to give him six months in county jail instead of a year in state prison, Woods said: "Just a minute, I'll take the year in state prison. I know what the jail is like. I been there." Nevertheless he got the jail term.

NEW ORLEANS.—As many as 250 trees a day are being planted along the streets and in public squares here in accordance with a program for the beautification of the city. Seven to thirty men are busy setting out the trees and shrubs, according to George H. Thomas, superintendent of the Park Commission. It is estimated that by May 55,000 trees will have been planted.

51 Await Rescue on Ship on L. I. Sandbar

Heavy charges of powder were used in this attempt to shoot a lifeboat off the freighter William N. Page, which is stranded in a high sandbar between two sandbars, 800 yards off the Long Island coast. All efforts to get a line to the ship proved futile. An airplane was pressed into service with the same result.

The sea was running too high for a lifeboat, so the officers and crew members were obliged to remain on board.

Farmer-Labor Party--Both Members--On Anxious Seats

It's Not So Pleasant As It Might Appear To Hold
Balance Of Power Between Two Powerful Parties

BY THOMAS L. STOKES,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The Farmer-Labor party in congress—both members—is sitting in the anxious corner these days.

It's not so pleasant as it might appear to hold a potential balance of power between two powerful political parties which will be so evenly divided in the next congress that that will be maneuvering continually for every little advantage.

That little advantage may be in the two six-foot Norwegians who make up the Farmer-Labor party—Senator Henrik Shipstead, who talks with an Irish brogue and used to be a dentist, and the strapping, handsome Paul John Kvale, who has done nearly everything during his 34 years.

The Deciding Votes
Though Republicans, at the present count, have hair-line majority in both house and senate, it may be that something will happen to make the vote of the two Minnesotans, one in the house and the other in the senate, the deciding ones as to which party shall organize and control each body.

In that event, the Farmer-Labor party might be said to be organizing congress—and that's a responsible, delicate and somewhat difficult job. Neither Shipstead nor Kvale will tell yet what he will do—if he knows himself.

They say it will depend on circumstances which they cannot predict and over which they have no control. Beyond the question of issues and general party policy, there is the personal element. Both have many friends in the other two parties.

Minnesota Modest
The young Minnesota representative thinks too much importance is attached to his position. Modestly, he says he does not think he should be as important as he is represented to be. But there is no would do soon after the returns came in last November.

"That is a partisan question," he said. "I never have been ruled by partisanship. I cannot state now what I will do in a matter which may be radically different in a few months from what it is today."

He is more likely to be a decisive factor than the branch of the party in the house as the senate lineup now stands 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and himself.

Ohio Mother Knew Best

WISE mothers find the things that keep children contented, happy, well. Most of them have learned they can depend on one thing to restore a youngster's good nature when he's cross, fretful, upset.

The experience of Mrs. W. J. Winter, 1107 East 88th St., Cleveland, is a typical one. She says: "I have used California Fig Syrup with both my boys for a number of years. Whenever they're the least bit constipated or restless I give them a little. It has them comfortable, happy, well in a jiffy. Their splendid condition proves I knew best when I decided to use this wonderful preparation with them."

Physicians endorse the use of pure vegetable California Fig Syrup when bad breath, coated tongue, dullness, feverishness, listlessness, etc., show a child's bowels are in need of help. Weak stomach and bowels are toned by its gentle aid; appetite increased; digestion and assimilation are so assisted that weak, undernourished children quickly improve in weight, strength and energy.

"The genuine always bears the word California. So look for that when buying. All drugstores have it."

PREPARE SCENE OR AUTO SHOW

ditorium To Be Transformed Into Spot
From Holland

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16.—During the coming week this city's great auditorium will be transformed into a spot from Holland. Preparation for the annual automobile show which is to be held in that building, Jan. 24 to 31 inclusive.

Great windmills will be installed, scenes from Dutch streets and countryside will be reproduced. This promises to make the most unusual setting for an automobile show that Ohio has had.

Late next week scores of glistering new models of the 1931 automobiles will parade into the building to take their places for inspection during the eight days of the show by the thousands of northern Ohio residents whose interest in the motor car and its progress never diminishes.

Exceptional interest is displayed in the automobile this year because of the many changes in body style, color, equipment and mechanism. Lower prices also have aroused the curiosity of the public. As all information pertaining to the new models will be available at the Cleveland show, the management of the exposition confidently is looking forward to attendance of large throngs.

Feature exhibits, musical programs and other entertainment also will be drawing cards. Outstanding among the attractions will be Edna Wallace Hopper, the former stage star who is known as "the woman who never grew old." She gives our lectures daily at the show, telling women visitors how she keeps her figure and her youth.

Another special event for women will be the fashion pageant where living models introduce the new styles in wearing apparel with the new automobiles.

A juvenile show for children and a group of educational features round out the show's set-up, making it an exposition for every member of the family, old and young.

The show opens at noon Saturday, Jan. 24 and is open from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. for the following seven days, including Sunday, which annually proves a popular visiting day with Cleveland's neighbors of northern Ohio.

RAYMOND WASH.—Willapa Harbor which boasted a lucrative oyster industry in 1900, is seeing revival. Japanese oysters, transplanted in the harbor, were being marketed this season.

Today's Pattern

This dainty model achieves chic through its attractively styled yoke of contrasting color, and its inverted pleats that give so much grace and freedom. These are stitched part way to hold them neatly in place. A dainty ruffling adds feminine charm to yoke and cuffs, while tiny pearl buttons trim the front panel.

Pattern 2047 may be fashioned of tulle, percale, cotton broadcloth, pongee, dimity or wash silk. A light ground well covered with colorful designs, and trimmed with a solid color to match the ground, will be adorable. Fabric, lace or embroidery is effective for ruffling.

May be obtained only in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8. Size 4 requires 2 yards of 36-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

NEW FASHIONS SHOW PAJAMAS FOR DAY 'ROUND

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The well dressed woman will follow the clock around in pajamas if the spring fashion show of the garment retailers of America is a criterion.

Models exhibiting pajamas for the dance, the beach, the garden and the home paraded across the stage of the Hotel Astor last night. Red and white terry cloth, blue and white stripe duck and flannel stuff were the vogue, voluminous in the legs and snugly fitted at the waist.

From the 150 creations shown by 87 exhibitors it was illustrated that the ensemble still rules women's wear. Almost every dress had its jacket and many two and three-piece suits had hip-length three quarter and full length jackets, made of crepe-like weaves for street wear and of rough, spongy materials for sports.

Dresses were an inch or two longer than last fall and coats followed suit. Frocks for afternoon wear were seven or eight inches off the ground. Dinner and dance frocks touched or barely cleared the floor, the toes of evening slippers peeping beneath ruffled flounces or clinging drapery of chiffon.

Pepping Up Haddock and Cod
If you'll serve fish without bones, I'll eat it," announced the fussy husband. And so fillet of flounder and sole and haddock appeared in turn. But these delicate fish require more than their natural flavor to appeal to masculine appetite. They have to be pepped up a bit or they grow tiresome in short order.

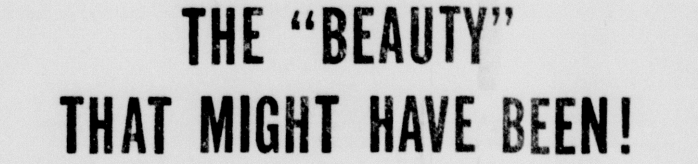

Haddock and cod commend themselves particularly to the housewife who likes to serve fish but encounters family prejudice to bones. These two large fish, like salmon, have large bones that are easily removed before or after cooking. And they permit more variety in serving than the small flat fillets of flounder or sole, which are best broiled or fried lightly.

Haddock, cod and salmon can be boiled, broiled or baked, and the baking method provides the most variety. One method is to place the large section of fish in a buttered baking dish, cover with a spicy seasoning of chopped onions, sweet peppers and canned tomatoes, plus lemon juice, salt and pepper. Bake slowly for 45 minutes to an hour depending on the size of the fish.

Or the boned sections of fish can be placed in a buttered baking dish and spread with a dressing made of two tablespoons butter mixed to a paste with twice as much flour and a seasoning of mustard, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce. Cover with sautéed milk and bake from 30 to 40 minutes, slowly until fish is tender. Five minutes before removing from oven sprinkle with one cupful of grated cheese—either hard American or grated Parmesan cheese.

Chopped mushrooms, parsley, onions, a spoonful of lemon juice, anchovy paste, or walnut catsup, if on hand will dress these plain fish very pleasantly.

THE "BEAUTY" THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN!

Nothing is sadder than a girl who just misses being beautiful. Often the reason is simple—improper elimination.

The poisons from constipation often cause pimples, sallow skin, dull eyes—headaches and even serious disease.

But every girl can banish the evils of constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its bulk sweeps the system clean.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are a wonderful health prescription. Try it with milk. Add fruits or honey. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. ALL-BRAN is non-fattening.

32,500 PERSONS ARE KILLED BY AUTOS IN 1930

Safety Council's Report Shows Increase Over
1929 Figure

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—America's automobile death toll in 1930 was equivalent to the wiping out of a small city, it was revealed today in the annual report of the national safety council.

A total of 32,500 persons were killed during the year in traffic accidents, the report showed. The number was 4 per cent larger than that for 1929.

The report was for 32 states and represented about 75 per cent of the country's population.

The rate of increase, it was reported, was the lowest since the automobile became a factor in national accidents. In 1929, there was a 12 per cent increase and the increase in 1930 over 1928 was eight per cent. The numerical increase of 1,300 in 1930 was smaller than for any year since 1920, except 1924.

The number of automobiles had nothing to do with the increase, according to the report, as there were approximately as many automobiles registered in 1929 as in 1930.

The report showed that automobile fatalities are decreasing in large cities, but increasing in rural districts.

"Those states with effective drivers' license laws show the best records," the report stated.

STATE AID FOR AGED PROPOSED

Youngstown Senator Introduces Bill At Columbus

(By United Press)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 16.—State aid for aged residents of Ohio is provided in a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Johnson of Youngstown. This would differ radically from old age pension legislation introduced in previous sessions of the legislature.

Under Johnson's bill, state aid could be given to a person who has attained the age of 70, who has been a citizen of the state for 15 years or has had 15 years total residence whether continuously or not;
who has lived for one year in the county from which application is made and who is not at the date of the application an inmate of a jail or prison, infirmary, asylum, reformatory or correctional institution.

If the applicant is married, desertion of the other spouse within a period of 15 years of the date of application would act as a bar. The same would be true if he has failed to provide for wife or minor children or has children who are able to support him or any one responsible under the law, for his support.

The amount of aid to which a person would be entitled would not exceed an amount that, when added to all other income, shall total more than $1 a day. A husband and wife who have property, the combined value of which is more than $3,000, would not be entitled to state aid.

To administer the law a state aid department would be created in the welfare division.
